

Sita Sat At The Temple

at ►preposition

1. To arrive or be in a place, e.g. They are waiting at the bus stop. I'm at the temple.
2. The time when an event starts, e.g. School begins at 9; Lunch is at noon.

sat

►verb

- Simple past tense and past participle of 'sit'; to put the weight of the body on the buttocks, e.g. Yesterday

I sat on that chair, today I want to sit on this one; When we went to the temple, we sat at the front; I was not happy because he sat on my chair.

pat

►verb [pat, patting, patted]

- To touch quickly and gently with the palm of the hand, e.g. Would you like to pat my dog?
Her mother gave her a pat on the back for her good work.

tap

►noun

- Something water comes out of, e.g. Please turn off the tap; Turn on the tap and fill the bucket with water.

►verb [taps, tapping, tapped]

1. To touch someone with a finger, e.g. He tapped me on the shoulder.
2. To touch a foot or finger a hard surface in order to make a noise, e.g. He was tapping his foot to the tune of the song.

sap

►noun

- The liquid that comes out of a plant or tree when cut, e.g. I pulled a leaf off the tree and sap came out; The sap of the Aloe Vera plant is used on burns.

